

WARNING:

Any damage caused by improper cleaning methods will void the warranty.

Our vinyl upholstery is designed to provide durability, comfort, and easy maintenance. Vinyl is widely used in commercial seating due to its resilience, hygienic properties, and resistance to everyday wear. With proper care and regular cleaning, vinyl upholstery will maintain its appearance, colour, and flexibility for many years. Routine maintenance helps prevent the build-up of dirt, oils, and stains while ensuring the surface remains clean and presentable in both commercial and residential environments.

Cleaning Recommendations for Vinyl Upholstery:

- Regular Vacuuming and Surface Cleaning: To keep vinyl surfaces free from everyday dust and debris, regularly vacuum the upholstery using a vacuum cleaner fitted with a soft brush attachment. This helps remove loose particles that may accumulate in seams or textured areas of the material. After vacuuming, wipe the surface gently with a damp sponge or soft cloth to remove any remaining dirt or surface residue. Regular light cleaning prevents grime from building up and helps preserve the smooth appearance of the vinyl.
- Protection from Direct Sunlight: Whenever possible, position vinyl seating away from prolonged exposure to direct sunlight. Extended exposure to strong sunlight and UV rays may cause the material to fade, dry out, or lose its original colour over time. Using window coverings or placing furniture in shaded areas can help protect the upholstery and extend its lifespan.
- Immediate Spill and Stain Treatment: Spills should always be addressed as soon as possible to prevent liquids from settling on the surface or causing stains. In the event of a spill, gently blot the affected area with a clean, dry cloth to absorb as much liquid as possible. Avoid rubbing the spill, as this may spread the liquid further across the surface. Prompt attention to spills significantly reduces the likelihood of permanent marks.
- Wiping and Drying: After treating spills or performing general cleaning, wipe the surface with a clean cloth lightly dampened with warm water. This helps remove any remaining residue or cleaning solution. Once cleaned, allow the upholstery to dry naturally in a shaded area away from direct sunlight or excessive heat. Proper drying ensures the vinyl maintains its flexibility and prevents moisture from becoming trapped on the surface.

Avoid Harsh Cleaning Products:

- Do not use abrasive powders, detergent-based cleaners, or paste cleaning agents on vinyl upholstery. These products can damage the surface coating, causing discolouration, loss of sheen, or premature wear. Always use mild cleaning solutions and soft cloths when cleaning vinyl.

Avoid Excessive Moisture or Machine Cleaning:

- Vinyl upholstery should never be excessively soaked with water. Avoid using hot water extraction machines, steam cleaners, or on-site dry-cleaning equipment, as these methods may damage the material or weaken the backing structure of the upholstery.

Note:

Annual professional cleaning is highly recommended, particularly in commercial or high-use environments. Professional upholstery cleaning helps maintain the appearance and hygiene of the vinyl while extending the lifespan of the material. Regular professional care can also assist in removing embedded dirt and restoring the original finish of the upholstery.
